

Much of the time, the telemarketers will call and a bogus phone number will appear on the caller id. They may not leave a message, but just keep calling from that number and a person cannot call them to ask them to stop. (I heard that this was due to they are paid for how many calls they make, regardless of whether they speak to anyone.) Please consider addressing this issue.